NEGRESS TAKES THE PASTEUR TREATMENT

First Treatment Administered Friday—Herald Locates Woman.

Blanche Crockett, the South Broadway negress who was bitten by the same dog whose bite caused the death of Alberto Tarrago Thursday night, is taking the Pasteur treatment.

The negress has developed none of the symptoms of the disease and it is thought that the treatment will prevent the development of any hydrophobia germs that might have entered her system when the puppy bit her.

The negress was not found by the police on Friday night near Altura Park, as the morning paper states—she has never lived there—but was located on South Broadway Thursday night at 9 o'clock by N. M. Walker, of The Herald staff, who was accompanied by George Cook, of the Popular store. Friday morning a tierd man induced the woman to take the treatment and arranged with Dr. Hugh White for her to take it. Dr. White says she took the first treatment Friday afternoon.

BLIGHTON UNDER ARREST AT TUCSON

Newspaper Man Has a Fight With Printer—Has a Finger Broken.

Tucson, Ariz., July 23.—Frank J. Blighton, editor of a weekly paper here, was arrested yesterday and placed under bond of a thousand dollars on a charge of having assaulted H. W. Wynkoop, of the Tucson Citizen, with a pair of 18 inch shears. Wynkoop represented the typographical union of this city in the recent labor convention at Phoenix and walked out when a plan was broached for the formation of a labor party to elect delegates to the constitutional convention.

Blighton was in El Paso this spring supposedly for the purpose of starting a newspaper there. Blighton was in the Citizen office Thursday evening inspecting a proof of his weekly which is printed at the plant of the daily paper. A fight followed during which Blighton broke his thumb. He was later arrested and released on bond.

GIRL SAVES UNCLE FROM AN ASSASSIN

Life of Former Spanish Minister Almost Snuffed Out in Barcelona.

Barcelona, Spain, July 23.—Antonio Maura, leader of the Conservative party, who as premier put down the Barcelona riots and brought about the execution of Dr. Francisco Ferrera, a year ago, probably owes his escape from death yesterday to the courage of his youthful girl cousin, who after Manuel Posa, an 18-year-old assailant of Maura, had shot and wounded him twice, threw herself upon Posa and spoiled the aim of the third shot.

Posa said to day he did not intend to kill Maura but desired only to make a demonstration against him. The wounds are not dangerous. Posa fired three shots at senator Maura as he was leaving a train, wounding him in the leg. The premier was hurried on board the steamer Miramar, where a doctor dressed his wounds. He left immediately on board the steamer for the island of Majorca.

The Conservative cabinet of senator Maura resigned October 21 of last year after having been in power two years and nine months.
